Daily evidence digest

12 November 2020

The daily evidence digest collates recently released reports and evidence – provision of these links does not imply endorsement nor recommendation.

COVID-19 and psychiatric disorder, neonatal COVID-19, seven critical lessons, mink farms

Peer reviewed journals featured:

- Retrospective cohort studies on the bidirectional association between COVID-19 and psychiatric disorder here and commentary here
- A UK cohort study on characteristics and outcomes of neonatal COVID-19 infection here
- Commentary on:
  - Seven critical lessons from the COVID-19 pandemic here
  - A potential link between prenatal exposure to COVID-19 and accelerated aging here
  - Complex systems models for causal inference in social epidemiology here
  - An educator-psychiatrist alliance to support student mental health in China here
- A Science report on the transmission of COVID-19 between humans and mink here

Letters and correspondence discussed:

- Proton pump inhibitors and COVID-19 outcomes here
- A sustainable strategy for COVID-19 in the UK here

News and blogs

- BMJ blog on the national test and trace service in the UK here

Click here to subscribe to the daily evidence digest.