AIM OF THE DEMENTIA AND DELIRIUM CARE WITH VOLUNTEERS PROGRAM

1. To provide emotional support and practical assistance for patients with dementia or delirium or other vulnerable older patients admitted to hospital.
2. To support the implementation of delirium prevention strategies for those patients identified at risk of delirium.

PURPOSE OF THIS MANUAL

The purpose of this manual is to provide staff and volunteers with clear documentation regarding:

1. The scope and philosophy of care underpinning the program
2. Staff procedures for identifying and referring patients to the program
3. The role, duties, daily routine, reporting lines and supervision processes for the volunteers.

This procedure manual is to be read in conjunction with the <insert Local Health District> volunteer documents such as Volunteer handbook including:

- Rights and responsibilities of volunteer
- Code of Practice for volunteers
- Confidentiality for Volunteers
- Tips for Volunteers

DEFINITION OF A VOLUNTEER

Formal volunteering is an activity which takes place through not for profit organisations or projects and is undertaken:

- to be of benefit to the community and the volunteer;
- of the volunteer's own free will and without coercion;
- for no financial payment; and
- in designated volunteer positions only (Volunteering Australia, 2009)
- Within the NSW Health Code of Conduct [Policy, PD2005_626, page 8], NSW Health defines "staff" as "...any person working in a permanent, temporary, casual, termed appointment or honorary capacity within NSW Health. It includes volunteers, patient advocates, contractors, visiting practitioners, students, consultants and researchers performing work within NSW Health facilities." Volunteers are therefore required to be aware of and adhere to all relevant NSW Ministry of Health policies and guidelines

DEFINITION OF THE HOSPITAL VOLUNTEER

A person who has expressed an interest in participating in the hospital volunteer program and who has undergone an interview, formal recruitment and training associated with the program. The role and function of the volunteer is determined by the volunteer roles and responsibilities, their duty statement, program guidelines and the policies and procedures of the <insert Local Health District>.

ABOUT THE VOLUNTEER PROGRAM

Admission to the hospital environment can be quite frightening for a person with dementia. Not only are they unwell, they have also been removed from their familiar home and people and admitted to a busy noisy unfamiliar place.

Sometimes people with or without out dementia can develop sudden confusion due to an illness, or other medical causes. This is known as delirium. The experience of delirium can also be a frightening for many people.

Because of their confusion, people with dementia and delirium can be quite fearful and vulnerable when in hospital. The volunteer program is designed to assist these patients by providing both emotional support and practical assistance.

The program is underpinned by the philosophy and principles of person centred care.

The volunteer role is similar to what a family carer would be doing if they were supporting the care of their loved one of family member when they are in hospital. In this way the volunteer program can be supportive to carers as they can feel reassured knowing there is someone in the hospital to provide the extra care to their loved one when they are not able to be there.

The volunteer program has also been shown to be of positive support and assistance to staff in their care of patients with dementia and delirium (Bateman, 2012)

PERSON CENTERED CARE

- Puts the person at the centre of their care
- Is based on the fact that cognition does not determine a person's capacity for emotional well-being or ill being.
- It is how people relate to and understand each other in terms of interpersonal relationship.
- Person centred care shifts the focus from the behaviour of the person to a holistic view of what may be causing or contributing to the behaviour.

PRINCIPLES OF PERSON CENTERED CARE

- Respect and acknowledgement for uniqueness of person
- Knowledge and value of persons past history
- A focus on the persons abilities
- Supporting choice
- Enhancing Communication
- Valuing what is important to the person or the attachments they may have
- Maintaining a positive social environment

An essential part of the program and providing person centred care is gaining an understanding of the person, their background, personal preferences and activities or interests that provide them with enjoyment. This is done through the volunteer completing a person profile with the patient and or their carer.

THE VOLUNTEER TRAINING PROGRAM

The Hospital volunteer training program has been designed to provide information and experiential learning to provide volunteers with the necessary knowledge and skills they need to support the care of patients with dementia and delirium.

The training program covering the following topics:

- The volunteer program and role, including rights and responsibilities and code of conduct for volunteers
- Understanding dementia and delirium
- Person centered care
- Communicating effectively with the person with cognitive impairment
- Activities for enjoyment and pleasure
- Behaviour's that can occur in patients with dementia and delirium
- Assisting patients with eating and drinking
- Safe walking with patients
- Commencing as volunteer, procedures, documentation and reporting
- The volunteers are required to undergo Health Service mandatory training sessions or programs.
- The volunteers have access to the staff health clinic to ensure that they are vaccinated according to Ministry of Health policy requirements.
- All volunteers are provided with orientation to the hospital as per orientation checklist
- All volunteers are supported as part of their commencement as a new volunteer.

VOLUNTEERS AS PART OF THE CARE TEAM

- The role of the volunteer in supporting patients with dementia and delirium or other vulnerable older patients is an important one. In this context the success of this program will be influenced by the respect, support and acknowledgment volunteers receive from staff in their role as part of the health care team.
- The key principles of trust, recognition, respect and valuing the contribution of the volunteers is embedded in the philosophy of this program.

- Opportunities for gaining staff and volunteer feedback are incorporated as part of the program.

IDENTIFICATION OF VOLUNTEERS

- The Volunteers will be identified by a <insert uniform type> and the wearing of Volunteer ID badges.

- The need for a volunteer to support a patient over the weekend is to be identified before 5pm on the preceding Friday.
- The Nurse Unit Manager (NUM) or delegate is to check the volunteer contact list to identify which volunteers have indicated that they are available for contact for a weekend shift.
- The NUM or delegate is to contact the volunteer/s to determine their availability for weekend shifts.
- After hours or weekend staff are not to contact a volunteer for patients who are admitted over the weekend.
- Volunteers do not provide services at night.

SCOPE AND BOUNDARIES OF VOLUNTEERS

- Volunteers are bound by the roles, responsibilities and duties defined in the duty statement. This has been covered in detail during the training and orientation of new volunteers.
- The volunteers have been advised to decline to complete any tasks not within their duty statement or the guidelines of this manual or, with which they are not comfortable.
- A Dos and Don't sheet has been developed to assist staff in understanding the boundaries of the volunteer duties.
- If staff are concerned about or observe volunteers acting outside their boundaries or roles they are asked to communicate this to the NUM

What is person centred care?

Person centred care puts the person at the centre of their care. Providing person centred care relies on having an understanding of the person, their background and personal preferences

The principles of person centred care are:

- Respect and acknowledgement for uniqueness of person
- Knowledge and value of persons past history
- A focus on the persons abilities
- Supporting choice
- Enhancing Communication
- Valuing what is important to the person or the attachments they may have
- Maintaining a social environment

Information to assist volunteers in providing person centred care is collected by the volunteer completing a personal profile with the patient. If the patient is too unwell or unable to provide information about themselves, the volunteer or staff member will ask the patients carer to complete the profile. In this way the carer can communicate to the volunteer important things to consider about the patient and their personal preferences.

What is required before a volunteer can support a patient?

Consent from the patient or their carer is required before a volunteer can visit a patient. The staff will ask the patient or their family carer if they would like the support of the volunteer program during the patients hospital stay.

If you have any additional questions or would like to have the support of the hospital volunteer program for yourself or the person you care for, please talk to the Nurse Unit Manager or Nurse in Charge on the ward

Dementia Delirium Care Hospital Volunteer Program

Patient and Family
Information Brochure

What is the hospital volunteer program?

The program uses trained volunteers to provide person centred emotional support and practical assistance to vulnerable patients in hospital.

Who types of patients do volunteers support?

- Patients with existing memory and thinking problems or who have dementia
- Patients who experience memory and thinking problems as a result of their illness or operation
- Patients who have vision and hearing impairment
- Patients who require assistance with eating and drinking OR who have special feeding requirements
- Patients who would benefit from someone sitting with them one to one
- Patients who would benefit from stimulating activities while in hospital

Who are the volunteers?

The volunteers are members of our community who have completed a specific training program. All volunteers are bound by the health service confidentiality requirements and have undertaken health service screening checks. You can recognise them because they wear a gold polo t-shirt and have name badge identification

What do the volunteers do?

The volunteer role provides similar support to that which would be provided by a family carer. In this way the program is also designed to support family carers when they are unable to be with their loved one. The volunteer initially talks with the patient, relative or friends to gain an understanding of the patient's background, family members, personal preferences and activities they enjoy.

The role of the volunteer includes:

- Sitting and talking with patients on a one to one basis
- Assisting with making the patient comfortable to support their sleep and rest – this may include adjusting pillows or providing warm drinks or a hand or foot massage
- Making sure the patient is wearing their glasses and hearing aides and checking that these are clean and working properly
- Assisting the patient with eating and drinking and when needed regularly offering fluids to drink
- Assisting the patient with completion of their menus
- Accompanying and helping the patient with walking as advised by the nurses or physiotherapist
- Finding out about activities, music or other stimulating activities that the patient may enjoy and supporting the patient with activities such as reading to them, playing cards etc.
